

Observation of the battery voltage

We are testing with 2 pcs of cards you sent last month. (The cards were not worked.)

Batteries embedded in the cards were removed. And then, new fresh batteries were connected with circuit of the cards. The cards are in stand-by state, and we are observing the profile of battery voltages.

The following data is the result.

We did not push the play button, but the LEDs in cards were operated sometimes by themselves.
